Your Source for Lean Workstations

Airline is a leading distributor of automation, fluid power and motion control products from the world's leading manufacturers. Since 1992, Airline has been successfully applying aluminum structural framing from Bosch Rexroth to meet the requirements of our customers.

- Our Application Engineers will work with you on site to develop a customized work cell concept.
- At Airline, a member of our design group will generate a 3D drawing and parts list for your approval.
- Our ergonomic designs utilize Bosch Rexroth MPS (Manual Production System) components.
- Airline's fabrication facilities offer the best in local manufacturing support. Choose from:
 - Quick delivery of raw materials from our local inventory
 - Materials supplied in pre-machined kit form
 - Fully assembled and tested workstations, delivered & installed upon request
